

During my previous co-op rotation, I was in charge of designing a suture bulk-unload system. It features a dual-conveyor lift-system and iterative movement. The system includes a quality assurance and testing bin. If you have any further questions, reach out and I can ask my previous employer what else I can talk about.

